It took us 100+ years to become Uniting Church in Sweden

In 1905 there was a meeting in Sweden where the Baptist Union of Sweden (BUS), the Methodist Church in Sweden and the Swedish Covenant Church (SCC) met to discuss if these three denominations could merge. There was an agreement, that the idea was good - but not very much happend.

Around year 2000 the youth organizations of these three denominations started to discuss a common office and more joint ventures. A few years later the merged and told their mother organizations that they strongly encouraged them to do the same. They gave the mother organizations 10 years, otherwise the youth organizations would split up again, like before.

2008 all three denominations took the decision to merge in their annual conferences, where all local churches are represented. It was a long process to give life to this new organization, Uniting Church in Sweden (UCS). At the annual conference in 2012 UCS was ready to take off with its new leadership.

BUS as a baptist denomination has been a member of the Thailand Baptist Fellowship for many years. UCS is still carrying a baptist identity, but not only. It carries also a Methodist heritage from the Methodist church in Sweden. It carries also a Lutheran/Congre-gationalist heritage from the SCC. The vision for this new organization is:

Uniting Church strives to be a church for all aspects of life where the encounter with Jesus Christ transforms me, you and the world
